XAVIER CHURCH, WITHOUT DEBT, HAS $59,525 IN BUILDING FUND

Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, rector of St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church, in his annual financial report to the congregation, given at all masses Sunday morning, revealed that the church, without debt for almost 25 years, has a special building fund of $59,525. The entire amount is invested in U. S. Government bonds.

The report, covering the past year, is one of the best financial statements of the local church in many years. From the total receipts for the 12-month period $12,000 in government bonds were placed in the building fund, after all other expenses had been paid.

Father Stock revealed that receipts for the year totaled $26,662.82, including a small balance from 1945. Expenses totaled $14,662 including church, rectory, school and convent.

$10,084 In Collections

The largest single item of revenue was $10,084.33 from plate collections. The second largest item was $4,048.31 revenue from the weekly card parties held in the parish hall. Collections for all other purposes totaled $2,917.82. Proceeds from parish property or parish funds amounted to $1,531.44.

One of the larger items of expense is the mission work of the church which amounted to $733.20 during the past year. One item in the annual report that the local priest has not had to fill out in almost a quarter of a century is "interest paid during the year."

Father Stock was assigned in 1921 to his "home parish," having been born in Gettysburg and graduated from the local parochial school. At that time the church had an indebtedness of $7,000. During the next three years the local rector paid off this indebtedness and built a $12,000 convent. He has kept his church free from debt since that time and has steadily made improvements and increased his special building fund.

$125,000 On Improvements

During his 25 years as rector of the local church he has spent $125,000 on improvements, all without borrowing. His policy has been to "avoid any indebtedness."

Father Stock also revealed that there were 82 baptisms and 19 marriages during the year.

$169,500 worth of insurance is carried on the parish property which has an estimated value in excess of $175,000.

The balance on hand as of December 31, 1946, is $1,521.66.

Father Stock is one of the few parish priests assigned to his home church. He enjoys the enviable reputation of being "one of the best financial administrators and priests" in the Harrisburg diocese.

FOUR BROTHERS ARE CHARGED

State police from the Gettysburg sub-station had "family trouble" over the week-end.

In two cases, sets of brothers were arrested on various charges. Harold T. Bowman, Littlestown R. 1, was charged by state police before Justice of the Peace Howard G. Blocher, Littlestown, with displaying as his own license another operator's driving permit. The owner of the operator's permit, Malcolm O. Bowman, Littlestown R. 1, a brother of Harold T. Bowman, was charged before Justice Blocher with lending the license.

Herbert A. Shearer, and Robert Shearer, brothers, both of York Springs R. 2, were charged before Justice Elton Myers, Idaville, with speeding. One brother was following the other. Police claim both were going too fast.

Two other week-end arrests were announced by state police. John E. Newhouse, Carlisle, has been charged before Justice of the Peace John Hinkle, York Springs R. D. with failing to wear glasses as provided on his restricted driver's license and Clair L. Gruver, East Berlin R. 3, was charged before Justice Claude Straley, New Oxford, with failing to give a proper signal.

Robert H. Sheehan, pastor of Centenary Methodist church. Prayer was offered by Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Edgar Yealy, Jr., sang a solo, accompanied by the choir.

Beer Bottle Bursts; Seriously Injures Eye Of Bernard Kimple, 42

Bernard E. Kimple, 42, Fayetteville R. 2, Adams county, faces the possible loss of his left eye as the result of an explosion of a sealed bottle at his tavern Friday afternoon.

Kimple was placing the bottle which contained beer into an ice box about 6 p. m. Friday when the accident occurred.

Broken glass sprayed over his face cutting his nose, forehead and left eye. The outcome of the delicate operation performed by a Chambersburg surgeon Friday night was not yet known, although it was doubted that the eye could be saved.

A splinter of glass apparently had ruptured the cornea although no glass had entered the eye, physicians said today.

Kimple was taken to a Fayetteville physician, who rushed him to the Chambersburg hospital.

Kimple had obtained the bottle from his store room, adjoining the tavern, his wife said Saturday. The impact of the explosion almost knocked her husband off his feet, she said.

MORE DONATIONS FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS FUND

The young women's organization of York Springs also reported that it has "adopted" a child who is suffering from infantile paralysis. The members plan to provide the youngster with all of the yarn and other materials she needs to carry on her program of knitting which is said to be the child's principal recreation.

A $2 gift was received from Mrs. C. A. Deitch, Carlisle street, who held a party at her home for friends and sent the proceeds to the paralysis fund.

Additional Sponsors

Among the additional sponsors who have donated $5 or more are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bream, Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Klinefelter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nowicki, York.

Planned Aid In Firemen's Probe

James B. Aumen, treasurer of the Pennsylvania State Firemen's Association for 14 years, and one of five men called to appear at a hearing in Philadelphia where an investigation is being made into activities of professional solicitors who are alleged to have illegally used the firemen association's name, today said he would cooperate to the fullest extent with the investigating officers.

"During the fourteen years I have been treasurer of the state association I have never, at any time, received any money from any book ever issued by any professional solicitor by or on behalf of the state association.

"I had been asked to attend a hearing in Philadelphia but asked to be excused because my physical condition does not warrant making such a trip. However, I will do everything I can to assist the investigation and those conducting the probe of such alleged illegal activities," Mr. Aumen said.

New Type Locomotive Seen Here Saturday

The second of a series of new high speed freight hauling engines of the 1400-type passed through Gettysburg Saturday afternoon. The big engine was on its way from the Baldwin locomotive works at Philadelphia, where it was built, to Hagerstown where it will be put into service for the first time.

A crew brought it from the Baldwin plant over the Pennsylvania lines to York where a Western Maryland crew took over the engine and drove it to Hagerstown. Baldwin and Western Maryland company officials accompanied the engine along the route. The engine is a little larger than previous engines on the Western Maryland and the 64-inch drive wheels are larger than usual for freight engines. Somewhat like the 2100-type engine of the Reading railroad, the new Western Maryland locomotive has four wheels on the pony truck, eight drive wheels and four wheels on the trailer.

Trapp Family Singers Who Give Concert Here Tuesday

Trapp Family Singers, with conductor, who will give concert in Brua chapel Tuesday night.

What music lovers predict will be the outstanding musical event of the season in Gettysburg this year will be the appearance Tuesday evening of the Trapp Family Singers, the Austrian family that was forced to flee from the Nazis. The family will appear in the second of the series of concerts sponsored by the Gettysburg Concert Association in Brua chapel beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Brua chapel will be filled to capacity with members of the Association. Memberships in the Association were limited to the seating capacity of the chapel, at the annual membership campaign last fall.

Hundreds of Requests

However, because of the attraction of the Trapp Family Singers hundreds of requests from all over the county have come to the Association for permission to purchase tickets for Tuesday's concert, so anxious were non-members to hear the famous singers. All such requests were rejected "with regret" by the Association because of the limited seating capacity of the chapel.

The Association had originally scheduled the singers for a Sunday night concert but were unable to secure a Sunday date. It was intended to have the singers appear in the Majestic theatre in order to accommodate a larger crowd.

Only members of the Association will be admitted to the chapel Tuesday evening.

Plan Sunday Concert

"We regret that we cannot accommodate more persons at the concert. Every seat will be occupied by members and there will not be available room for non-members. However, next year we are hopeful of increasing the membership and to present each concert on a Sunday evening in the Majestic theatre. We have definitely outgrown Brua chapel and we feel a sense of responsibility to accommodate all those who wish to join our Association."

"All memberships are sold for the entire series of concerts and at no time are individual concert tickets sold," Mrs. Guyon Buehler, President of the Association, said today.

Three Accepted For National Guard Duty

Three additional men have been approved for membership in Adams county's new National Guard unit, Captain Robert L. Scott announced today.

The new men are Burnell Warner, McSherrystown; George H. Loss, Hanover, and Emory K. Flowers, Hanover. All three were examined Thursday by Dr. Samuel Kirkpatrick, New Oxford.

The National Guard troop will meet on Tuesday evening this week instead of Thursday, Captain Scott added. The decision to meet Tuesday evenings at the armory at 7:30 o'clock was made to avoid conflicts with VFW and American Legion activities throughout the county area. Anyone interested in the troop is asked to visit the armory Tuesday evening.

Groundhog Emerges In Cold Wave To Predict More Winter

(By The Associated Press)

It's now official—there'll be six more weeks of winter.

Pennsylvania's three famed groundhogs saw their shadows yesterday.

The so-called weather prognosticators crept out of their holes at Quarryville, Punxsutawney and Allentown—took one quick look at the falling snow, and the shadows, and scurried back for six more weeks of winter slumber.

Charles F. Hess, hibernating governor of the Ancient Order of Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs, said 60 prophets, patriarchs and scouts—wearing stovepipe hats, nightshirts and carrying shepherd's staffs—tramped to their wood-chuck's den and saw him see his shadow.

"The 'seer of seers' of the Punxsutawney groundhog club sneaked a look at the overcast skies from his Gobbler's Knob burrow. The shadow he cast, observers observed, was conclusive."

COLLEGE ASKS CHURCH'S HELP WITH CAMPAIGN

Adams county's ministers were asked today to make Sunday Gettysburg College Day at their churches.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, speaking at a conference of ministers held in the form of a luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg, urged the ministers present to "include in your services or in the sermon some mention or prayer for the college that it may succeed in its goal of providing the best in Christian education for our county and our nation's youth."

"Every church represented here has sons in Gettysburg college," the educator declared, "and you want us to send back to you men who have not only the best in education but who have added to that a deep and sincere religious spirit."

The Task of the Christian College

"The world is as it is today because of the people who make up its population," Doctor Hanson declared. "Our worries today about the atom bomb are caused because of the kind of people there are in the world. We seek to outlaw it, to control it. But there is no way to control or outlaw the atom. What we need is to so educate a generation that it will be able to constructively and creatively use the power that is available to it."

"That is the work of Christian College. We must not only provide an education the equal of anything that can be given in the state institutions, but we must be able to give something far more important, something that must be added to education if it is to be of value, and that is the Christian spirit."

"Seek Your Support"

"We seek your moral and spiritual support because there is an integral relationship between the college and the community. These economic, cultural, moral, spiritual relation-

DOCTOR CLINE RESIGNS FROM COLLEGE STAFF FOR ULCA POST

Dr. Thomas L. Cline, head of the English department at Gettysburg college and for the last 25 years a professor of English at the local institution, has been named promotional secretary of the Board of

DR. T. L. CLINE

Pensions and Relief of the United Lutheran Church in America, the board announced today.

He will begin his new duties June 15 after completing his year's work here. His successor as head of the local college department will be named following a meeting of the college board of trustees.

The position of promotional secretary for the board of pensions and relief, one of the eight important boards of the United Lutheran Church in America, is a new post.

At the national convention in Cleveland last year the U.L.C.A. adopted a contributory pension plan for ministers and lay workers. As a result of that decision it was decided to engage a promotional secretary to travel throughout the country to explain the program and secure the cooperation of ministers, laymen and synods.

Goes To Philadelphia

Doctor Cline's new headquarters will be in the Muhlenberg building at 1228-34 Spruce street, Philadelphia. He plans to move to Philadelphia in June.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, paid tribute to Doctor Cline in a statement this morning. "Doctor Cline has endeared himself to all at Gettysburg," the college president said. "His long and distinguished service makes it difficult to think of Doctor Cline leaving Gettysburg college but the position of promotional secretary of the pensions board of the United Lutheran Church presents a real challenge and great opportunity. I deeply regret losing Doctor Cline as a member of the faculty, but at the same time I want to congratulate the pension board on securing his services as secretary."

Prominent Educator

The local educator received his bachelor of arts degree from Roanoke college, his master of arts from Princeton and his doctor of philosophy from the University of Virginia. JANUARY TOLL ON HIGHWAYS OF COUNTY HEAVY

Death claimed a heavier toll on Adams county highways during last month than in December or during January, 1946, but the number of accidents was less, the monthly recapitulation of the activities of the Gettysburg State Police sub-station disclosed today.

There were 13 accidents in January. Three persons were killed and ten injured in the crashes. Damage totalled $4,005. In January, 1946, there were 16 accidents including one fatal and 19 persons were injured. Property damage a year ago was $2,855. For December there were 20 accidents, two fatal, 13 were injured and damage totalled $15,166.

In all three fatal cases investigated last month the drivers of a car involved in each were charged with involuntary manslaughter by the investigating officer. In one case, where a former soldier was fatally injured near Gardners, the driver was sentenced to a year in jail Saturday on the charge. In another case, where two cars collided on the Littlestown-Hanover road the driver of one car is being held on the involuntary manslaughter charge. In the third case, where the driver of a car struck and fatally injured a pedestrian in Cash-town, the driver has been charged with involuntary manslaughter and gets a hearing tonight.

57 Drivers Arrested

The three manslaughter charges were among nine charges brought against car operators as a result of the accidents. In all, 57 drivers were arrested on motor code violations during January.

Wednesday was the big day for accidents, with four of the thirteen occurring on that day. Tuesday had one, Thursday and Sunday each two, Friday one and Saturday three accidents. Mondays were free from crashes. The Lincoln Highway was the scene of six of the 13 smash-ups during the month.

Speed Biggest Cause

Five of the accidents occurred because one or both operators were traveling too fast for conditions, the (Please Turn to Page 7)

'Y' DRIVE NEAR HALFWAY MARK

With only one week to achieve its $2,500 goal, the Gettysburg YWCA campaign has gathered $1,123. It was announced today by Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, finance committee chairman who is in charge of the drive. She said reports are lacking from 21 of the 70 local solicitors.

The first partial reports from the county show $35 collected in Biglerville, $15 in Fairfield and $8.50 in Arendtsville.

Seven solicitors have completed their work. Mrs. Milton Plank, with $72.50 from the first block of Baltimore street, and Mrs. W. D. Harts-horne with $36.50 from East Broadway and Harrisburg Road, have topped last year's figures in the same sections. The other five have received about the same as last year—Mrs. Abbel Ross Wentz, Seminary Campus, $33; Mrs. Mary Beales York street, from school to Fourth $15.35; Mrs. Clyde Lenhart, Baltimore street from South to intersection, and Locust street, $25.25; Mrs. M. R. Remmel, first block East Middle, $10.60; and Mrs. Paul Thomas, south side of Hanover street, and Liberty street, $12.

An initial report from all solicitors is requested by the Y. W. C. A. office, Center Square, before the middle of the week.

The official closing date of the campaign is February 8.

Work Underway On New 'Rec' Building

Gettysburg college's new temporary recreation building will be completed within the next 30 days if the present schedules can be maintained, Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college announced today.

Word was received this morning from the Richmond Air Field that the former officers' club there which will be reconstructed at the college here for the recreation center is being torn down, work there starting this morning. The section into which the structure will be divided will be sent here and erected in the open area between Glatfelter hall and the Eddie Plank Memorial gym. The building will serve as the temporary recreation building until the SCA building is completed. After that the structure will be used as an additional recreation building by the college.

TRUMAN ASKS
EXTENSION OF
SUGAR RATION

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—President Truman told Congress today that the government will need authority to ration sugar and control other scarce foods for another year.

In a message to the Legislature, he asked a 12-month extension of some of the extraordinary powers given the president by the Second War Powers Act of 1942. The present law expires March 31.

In addition to rationing authority, one of the major powers he asked be extended is one allowing him to control exports and imports. This lets the government fix how much of any commodity may be exported or imported.

The theory is this: Without controls, wealthy foreigners might, for instance, buy all the automobiles produced in this country; depriving Americans of them. Americans might buy all the sugar and rubber produced in the world, depriving foreign nations of them.

Talks With Leaders

Before sending his message to the capitol, Mr. Truman talked it over with Republican Congressional leaders at a White House conference. It was the second time they have gotten together for a talk on legislative problems.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) described it as a "congenial meeting."

The Congressional machinery was laboring over proposals for new tax, labor and rent control laws when the message arrived. Major developments on those subjects:

Rents:

The Senate Banking committee, holding hearings on proposals to raise rent ceilings 15 per cent, received testimony from J. B. Carey, the CIO's secretary-treasurer, that any boost while unions are trying to work out "harmonious" wage agreements "will have the gravest effect."

The national association of real estate boards contended in a statement to the committee that rent ceilings should be raised on existing dwellings and controls left off newly-constructed apartments and homes.

Progressive Step-up

Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) offered a bill allowing a five per cent rent increase every four months until the ceiling had risen 20 per cent when it would be removed entirely.

Taxes:

One of the tax issues shaping up is whether the smallest income taxpayers should be dropped. In a speech prepared for the house, Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) said, no. It is wise, he declared, for persons of small income to pay some tax so that they will be "tax conscious" and favor reduced spending.

Labor:

The House judiciary committee, opening hearings on proposals to outlaw suits for back pay to port of call, heard Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) declare the supreme court "ought to recall" the decision which touched off the current series of suits, aggregating nearly $5,000,000.

Milton A. Smith, representing the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, told the House group it should study the whole wage-hour law as a first step toward removing "a threat of bankruptcy" to many concerns.

BUCKNELL COACH
GETS NEW JOB

Lewisburg, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—Albert E. Humphreys, who was recently given a new two-year contract as director of athletics and head football coach at Bucknell university, has asked to be relieved of his coaching duties, it was announced today by President Herbert I. Spencer.

Humphreys has been appointed to become acting director of physical education for men at Bucknell upon retirement of John D. Plant in June.

"Humphreys decided to resign the coaching job now in order that his successor might be chosen as soon as possible," Spencer said. "He wants to devote his entire time to administration of the inter-collegiate and intra-mural programs."

"I feel that whoever we select as coach ought to be here in time for spring practice," Humphreys said. Normally the Bisons start spring drills late in March. This year's team was Humphreys' seventh at Bucknell.

MEADVILLE HAS
$200,000 FIRE

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—A $200,000 fire destroyed two store buildings and threatened a large department store in the heart of Meadville's business district today before firemen brought the flames under control in freezing weather.

Fire Chief Charles Shallenberger, who headed the 5-hour battle against the fire, estimated the damage.

The flames, discovered in the Marquette Furniture store on Water street, quickly spread to the Taylor Hose Co. and the police club on the second floor of the brick building, and to the adjoining Watson china store.

Wind fanned the flames toward the Crawford department store, one of the largest businesses in this Crawford county community. A fire wall aided firefighters in their battle to keep the flames from spreading to the Crawford store however.

Firemen from Meadville and Verplan Township fought the raging fire in biting cold weather. They were still pouring water on the wrecked furniture and china store building three hours after the blaze was discovered.

ships are all vital and meaningful. "To be able to give the education that is needed in the world of today the college must have a larger physical plant. For that reason $500,000 is sought as a minimum to give to the young men and women of the community and country the facilities they need in the course of their education. Adams county's quota has been set at $75,000 because the college is so much a part of the community. It has educated its sons, it is attempting to give in even better fashion Christian education that members of the community realized was needed when in 1832 people of Gettysburg and Adams county founded Gettysburg college." C. A. Willis presided at the meeting.

LEHIGH FALLS BEFORE BULLET CAGERS 58-47

Gaining the lead early in the first period, the Gettysburg college cagers led throughout to score an easy 58-47 Middle Atlantic Association loop victory over Lehigh at Bethlehem Saturday evening.

Bob Hart paced the Bullets' well balanced attack with five goals and a trio of free throws.

The Brean-men rushed off to a 14-6 lead in the first period and at half held a commanding 27-15 margin. Hart led the Bullet attack in the first half with a total of nine points.

Petrone, Lehigh guard, who was the high scorer for the game with 17 tallies, landed 13 points in the last half to enable the Engineers to outscore the locals by one point but there was never any cause for alarm as the Orange and Blue enjoyed a wide margin throughout. Drach, Akers and Hart spearheaded Gettysburg's assault in the final period.

The victory marked the sixth in 11 starts for Gettysburg and was their second triumph during the campaign over Lehigh.

Aldright's high-flying quintet, rated as one of the best to ever represent the Reading school, will play here Wednesday.

The Bullet junior varsity, unbeaten in five contests, will tangle with Hershey Junior college in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

DEMARET WINS TUCSON OPEN

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 3 (AP)—Crooner Jim Demaret was en route to San Antonio, Tex., today with the Tucson open golf crown on his head, $2,000 in prize money in his pocket and the hearts of this city's golf fans in the palm of his hand.

The flashily dressed pro from Ojai, Calif., yesterday won the $10,000 Tucson open for the second straight year with a smooth five-under par 65 and a 72-hole total of 264, four strokes lower than the record for the par 35-37 El Rio country club course he established last year.

He won the hearts of the citizens when he sang the popular song "Surrender" during the presentation of prizes.

Ben Hogan Second

Surrender was just what Demaret had refused to do as he teed off on the final 18 holes with a one stroke lead over PGA champion Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., who captured second place with a 287. Hogan carded a 67 around the 6,400-yard layout yesterday after he three-putted the 18th green from within 10 feet.

One stroke back of Hogan was Jim Ferrier, transplanted Australian who calls Chicago home. Hogan drew $1,400, Ferrier $1,000.

Grouped behind Ferrier at 270 were Herman Keiser, Akron, Ohio, who established a new competitive course record for the club here with a second round 62; Jim Turnesa, White Plains, N. Y., and Jack Hardin of El Paso, Tex.

2,500 Workers Idle In Steel Mill Strike

Pittsburgh, Feb. 3 (AP)—The first sizable steel with work stoppage since steel contract negotiations began left 2,500 employees idle at the Altiappa, Pa. plant of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. today.

Actually on strike in the four-day-old walkout are 18 intra-plant railroad workers involved in a dispute with the company over safety measures for a narrow gauge line serving the open hearth department. The 18 are members of the CIO United Steelworkers.

The walkout gradually closed down unit after unit. Open hearths, blast furnaces and Bessemer converters were curtailed and operations of the blooming mill and finishing departments were shutting down for lack of steel billets.

The union resumes contract negotiations today with J. & L. and the Aluminum Company of America. The union expected the J. & L. contract would be extended to April 30. The agreement with the Aluminum Company has been extended indefinitely.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 3 (AP)—Popular pastime during lulls in the baseball writers' festivities last night was composing new Army football songs such as "On brave old Army team, on to the pros" and "No leave, no nothing." . . . But there were a lot more cheers than boos for Glenn Davis when he came out to sprint in Saturday's Millrose track meet and we heard one fan express the hope that the West Point trio would be allowed to play pro ball so he'd get a chance to see "junior" lug the ball. . . . Georgia Tech's Bill Alexander proposes to support football by taxation in order to eliminate commercial aspects. . . . That really would put the pressure on ticket managers and coaches if every taxpayer figured he was entitled to a seat on the 50 yard line and a voice in firing the coach.

LED TO SLAUGHTER

Johnny Pesky tells this one on himself. . . . Shortly after the world series ended last fall, Johnny attended a game between Oregon and Oregon State. . . . It was a rainy day, the teams were fumbling frequently and the customer beside Pesky was wet inside as well as out. . . . After a particularly bad fumble, Johnny's neighbor arose and shouted: "Give the ball to Pesky; he can hold it. He did in the seventh game of the World Series."

MONDAY MATINEE

Story heard hereabouts is that Ray Evans, Kansas U's all big six tailback, is thinking about leaving school for pro football. This report says Ray is willing to try on a Chicago Bears' uniform for size if a certain offer is boosted a little into the five-figure class. The New York Bears plan to take 26 pitchers to training camp. Business Manager Parke Carroll figures that will be enough to get them through the opening game. . . . Basketball experts looking for records that the Philadelphia Warriors' Joe Fuls may break found that Willie Kummer pitched in 1404 points for Connelville in the old Central league in 1911-12. Kummer shot all the free throws for his team and made 938 points that way. . . . Fuls, incidentally, claims the trouble with a lot of food basketball players is that they don't do enough shooting.

M'CARTHY MAY GO TO BOSTON

New York, Feb. 3 (AP)—The hot-tempered rumor at the baseball writers' dinner which climaxed the week-end meetings of the major league executives was that Joe McCarthy, former manager of the New York Yankees would join the Boston Red Sox this coming season either as a coach or in the front office.

Although all parties concerned declined to comment, it was understood that the Red Sox have been dickering with McCarthy not long after Marjoe Joe Quit as manager of the Yankees last June.

McCarthy, who attended the dinner, did not affirm or deny the report, but admitted he would be happy to return to baseball if the right offer presented itself.

The guess is that McCarthy may replace Eddie Collins as general manager of the Sox. Collins, working in the dual capacity as vice president and general manager, has been in ill health of late. He is 60 years old.

BENTON LEADS PASS RECEIVERS

New York, Feb. 3 (AP)—The No. 1 pass receiver in the National football league last season was Big Jim Benton of the Los Angeles Rams, who preserved the title for Pine Bluff, Ark., by mounting the throne vacated by his fellow-townsmen, Don Hutson, now retired.

Statistics released today by headquarters of the professional circuit show that the Los Angeles end snagged 63 forward passes in 1946 for a total gain of 981 yards and six touchdowns, averaging 15.5 yards per catch.

Second to Hutson in this department in both 1944 and 1945, Benton caught two or more passes in each of his 11 games in 1946 to turn in twice as many receptions and more than twice as many yards as his closest competitor, Harold Crisler of Boston.

Benton reached his peak against the New York Giants Dec. 1 when he gathered in 12 of Bob Waterfield's passes for 202 yards and two touchdowns, the best individual performance for the year.

Crisler barely nosed out Steve Bagarus of the Washington Redskins for runner-up honors, catching 32 tosses for 385 yards compared to Bagarus' 31 for 438.

Bill Dewell of the Chicago Cardinals led the league in snaring touchdown passes with seven and his average of 23.8 yards per catch on 27 receptions was the best in the circuit.

SQUIRES SEEK ANOTHER WIN OVER MAROONS

Revenge for their surprise drubbing at the hands of Delone Catholic high at McSherrystown on January 14 will be the goal of the Gettysburg high cagers when they play a return game with the Squires here Tuesday evening.

With the exception of the Chambersburg game, the Forney-men suffered their worst setback at the hands of the scrappy Squires who walked off with an easy 39-25 victory.

Delone has always proven a tough customer for Gettysburg and it is certain the squires will come here bent on repeating their earlier victory.

Coach Eddie Waleski will stick to his lineup of Staub and Leonard, forwards; Murren, center, and Prendergast and Hemler, guards.

Joe Hess, Maroon center, who has been hampered recently by a bad ankle, is expected to be ready for full duty. Other starters for Gettysburg will probably be Doc Cole and Bill Eisenhart, forwards, and Bruce Westerdahl and Kenny Fair, guards.

The Maroon scrubs 27-19 winners at McSherrystown, will be out to repeat that triumph when the teams clash in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

BARONS LEAD, OTHERS CLOSE

(By The Associated Press)

Although the Cleveland Barons are once again moving at a rapid clip, Indianapolis, Buffalo and Pittsburgh continue to hang hard on the heels of the American hockey league's western division pacesetters. The Barons have won five out of their last six games including week-end victories over New Haven and Philadelphia but they lead Indianapolis by only six points as the Caps also won the two games over the week-end.

Following their 4-2 win over New Haven Saturday, the Barons outscored the Philadelphia Rockets, 7-5 yesterday with Pete Lewick pacing the attack by scoring twice.

Caps Win Two

The Caps, who trounced the Rockets, 4-1 Saturday, came back yesterday and clipped New Haven, 5-2 with Cliff Simpson counting twice to lead the assault.

Meanwhile, the Buffalo Bisons and the Pittsburgh Hornets remained deadlocked for third place, three points back of the Caps. The Bisons bowed, 3-2 to the Hershey Bears, eastern division leaders, Saturday but bounced back yesterday and drubbed the Providence Reds, 7-2, while the Hornets nipped the Reds, 5-3 Saturday in their lone appearance.

In another game Saturday, the tail-end western division St. Louis Flyers ended the Springfield Indians, 5-3.

TEMPLE QUINT BEATEN 85-48

Philadelphia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Temple university's hot-and-cold basketball quintet suffered its worst coast beating in history over the week-end as 23 Keystone state fives pounded the hardboards—12 were victorious.

Temple was trounced 85-48 by West Virginia's undefeated mountaineers in the opener of a convention hall doubleheader. What made defeat even more inglorious was the fact the Owls were the only Quaker city quintet to fall in defeat all last week.

St. Joseph's upset St. John's of Brooklyn 55-48 in the finale of the twin bill Saturday, while Villanova smashed Yale, 62-46; Drexel edged Johns Hopkins, 5-45, Penn tagged Army for its second straight defeat, 64-59, and La Salle whipped Baltimore Loyola, 59-49.

Washington and Jefferson, with Duquesne the only undefeated teams in the Keystone state, had no chance to stretch its win streak to eight. It's contest with Grove City was postponed.

Muhlenberg over Bucknell

In other week-end games, Muhlenberg zoomed into undisputed possession of first place in the northern division of the middle Atlantic conference with a 67-54 triumph over Bucknell. Gettysburg stopped Lehigh, 58-47, in another middle Atlantic loop fracas; Indiana State Teachers pummeled Shippensburg Teachers, 65-45; Lock Haven defeated West Chester, 49-42; Westminster squeezed past Waynesburg, 58-55; Penn State overpowered Pitt, 46-38, and Cornell routed Lafayette, 52-36.

60 Women Making U.S. Burial Flags

Philadelphia, Feb. 3 (AP)—It's going to take a year for 90 women employees at the army quartermaster depot here to fill an order for 169,000 American burial flags.

The flags will drape caskets of World War II servicemen being returned to the U. S. for re-burial.

The women make about 600 daily.

Flying of a flag with the union down is a signal of distress.

Set Aug. 22 For Softball Tourney

Eric, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—The 1947 championship of the Pennsylvania amateur Softball Association will be decided in Allentown in a tournament beginning Aug. 22.

State Softball Commissioner Edward Ward said the matches will climax a month of competition held to pick six district champions.

More than 125 teams took part in last year's play.

SCHOOL TEAMS ENTER STRETCH FOR PLAYOFFS

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, Feb. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania's top-ranking scholastic basketball teams turn into the final four weeks of the current campaign with league honors at stake and all seeking play-off berths leading to a state championship.

Allentown, winner of the state crown for the past two years, and unbeaten in 60 consecutive starts, faces the toughest test of its second half season tomorrow night when Coach J. Birney Crum takes his high flying Canaries to Hazleton. The champions won the first game at Allentown, 43-34, but the Mountaineers will be out for revenge and would like nothing better than to halt Allentown's streak.

Fell Township, defending class B champions, are still unbeaten in the northern league, where the first half crown was clinched last week, but a 31-game winning streak was broken Friday when St. Mary's of Williamsport joined the Fell five, 34-29.

Right now Norristown, with 15 consecutive wins, and the first half crown in the Suburban league; Carbondale, first half winners of the Lackawanna Valley league; and Altoona, unbeaten in ten starts, are serious contenders for Allentown's crown.

Altoona has one of the best records in state ranks, chalking up a 39-36 victory at Johnstown for ten straight this year and 33 wins in the last 34 starts, the only setback coming in the play-offs last spring against Homestead. The Mountaineers anticipate little trouble tomorrow at Mt. Union.

In class B ranks, Camp Hill in suburban Harrisburg, is riding the crest of a 15-game winning streak and meets the big test of the year tomorrow when Coach Bernie Thrush's boys invade Susquehanna Township, Columbia, another contender for class B honors in district three, has also won 15 straight, the latest a 56-20 victory over Quarryville. With only one league game to play the Columbia five is sure of section two honors in the Lancaster county circuit.

With Allentown at Hazleton, the other East Penn conference game finds Easton at Pottsville, while Bethlehem, fifth member of the loop, plays Allentown Catholic in a third and deciding game, both having one victory to their credit.

Lancaster At York

Lancaster's hope of a Central Penn conference crown will depend largely on the showing of the Tornados at York with both clubs showing only one defeat on the league record. Reading, third contender for central honors entertains William Penn of Harrisburg, with Steelton at John Harris.

Farrell, fresh from a 36-35 victory over Sharon, meets Ford City, leading contender for section one honors in the WPIAL, in a game that could be a pre-view of the coming sectional play-offs. Donora, trying to stay in the fight for section four honors, entertains California tonight; Monongahela plays at Monessen tomorrow; Jeannette journeys to Blairsville; and Homestead, last year's western champion, plays host to Washington in other WPIAL features.

Indiana at Windber and Ebensburg at Perndale are two important tri-county league frays, with Johnstown entertaining Conemaugh on Wednesday, and Westmont journeying to Bedford for an independent fray tomorrow.

Other games in the west find Meadville at Sharpville; Oil City at Titusville; Franklin at Warren; Greenville at Erie East; Erie Tech at Corry; Erie Prep playing Erie Academy in the City series game, and Randolph of the Crawford county circuit seeking revenge for an early season setback at Stoneboro.

All the major practical developments in the field of electricity have occurred in the past 60 years.

G-BURG MATMEN PIN BUCKNELL FOR THIRD WIN

Coach Clyde Cole's unbeaten Gettysburg college wrestlers notched their third successive triumph by defeating Bucknell Saturday evening at Lewisburg, 19-13.

The victory may prove very costly inasmuch as Don Morris, 165-pounder, suffered an injured left shoulder which will keep him out of action for some time.

One of the best bouts of the evening was the 175-pound event in which Forley of Bucknell gained a 4-0 verdict in an extra period affair. Neither grappler could gain a point score until the last six seconds.

Gettysburg's lone fall was scored by Joe Erb who pinned Kroyer in the 136-pound event with a body press.

Other winners for the Bullets on decisions were Ted Lenker, 128; Dick Elting, 145; Jim Way, 155, on forfeit, and Nels Gible, heavyweight. Gible's victory capped the decision for the locals.

Next Saturday evening the local Muhlenberg outfit in a preliminary to the Gettysburg-Mule basketball clash at Allentown.

The summaries: 121-pound, Paul, Bucknell, threw Roy Klinedinst in 2:38 of first period with a body press.

128-pound, Ted Lenker, Gettysburg, won a 4-0 decision over Ireland. 136-pound, Joe Erb, Gettysburg, threw Kroyer in 6:37 of second period with a body press.

145-pound, Dick Elting, Gettysburg, gained a 4-0 decision over Williams.

155-pound, Jim Way, Gettysburg, gained a forfeit over Kamensky.

165-pound, Mullins, Bucknell, threw Don Morris in 7:21 of third period by using a double bar hold.

175-pound, Forley, Bucknell, gained a 4-0 decision over Dick Binder in an extra period affair.

Heavyweight, Nels Gible, Gettysburg, gained an 8-4 decision over Engel.

Eastern League To Boost Prices

New York, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Eastern League will play a 140-game schedule opening April 23 and closing September 7 this season.

Additionally, loop owners voted to increase grandstand admission prices 10 per cent in 1947 at the annual meeting here Saturday. The new price thus climbs from 90 cents to $1.

On opening day, April 23, Elmira plays at Williamsport, Hartford at Albany, Binghamton at Utica and Wilkes-Barre at Scranton.

Williamsport begins spring training March 20 at Troy, Alabama. Binghamton goes south to Edenton, N. C., on March 24. And on that date, too, Utica goes to Kingstree, S. C., Wilkes-Barre to Suffolk, Va., Albany to Brunswick, Ga., and Elmira to a site still not selected.

Scranton begins training March 26 at Bennettsville, S. C., and Hartford, April 1 at Raleigh, N. C.

Glenn Sherwood of the Elmira Advertiser was re-elected president of the Eastern League Baseball Writers' Association at a meeting also held Saturday.

Report Fatalities In Bolivian Battle

La Paz, Bolivia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Authorities said today the government was investigating reports from the Potosi mining region that 22 persons were killed and 64 injured Monday in a battle between miners armed with dynamite and national police.

Both miners and police were said to have suffered losses.

Minister of government Robert Bilbao said that if the reports were substantiated, steps would be taken to prosecute instigators of the attack by miners on police barracks, which he said started the battle. He said some 50 persons had been taken into custody.

FRICK WARNS CLUB OWNERS ON GAMBLING

By TED MEIER

New York, Feb. 3 (AP)—Ford Frick, president of the national league, has called upon club owners, sportswriters and fans to help "keep baseball clean and healthy."

Injecting a serious note at last night's writer World Series of baseball, the annual dinner of the New York Baseball writers at the Waldorf-Astoria attended by virtually all of the game's top executives, Frick asserted:

"These are uncertain times when we must straighten rather than let down x x x past standards. It is unfortunate that any player has acquaintance with any gambler, anytime, x x x it is unfortunate that undesirable too often are permitted the run of our ball parks and unthinkable that they should be permitted access to our clubhouses."

No Double Standard

"It is doubly unfortunate that actions off the field, acquaintances and associations of leisure hours, too often uncover the feet of clay of those idols whose conduct on the field is above reproach."

"Those of us who own clubs, who are officials of leagues, who represent management and operation, too often condone in our own actions those shortcomings for which we hold our players guilty."

"There must be no double standards. If our house is to be kept in order we too must abide by the rules we set for others. The right hand cannot condemn what the left hand is prone to conceal."

"You can help. What needs be done, that we have failed to do? What has been done that should not have been done? If you have evidence of wrong doing it cannot value you as a rumor, but must be submitted for action. The door to baseball is open. The commissioner is your representative. If we are the executors of baseball; if the commissioner is the judge, then you, the writers and the fans, are no less the police and the prosecuting attorneys."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE TEACHER

My sympathy is all with the teachers in our public schools and colleges. They spend years in preparation for their life work—and are the poorest paid. Efficient teachers should be among our best-paid public servants. As it is, most of them draw a smaller pay than most un-learned janitors!

In New York State, at the present time, Governor Dewey and his "team" are seeking to add to the pay of these loyal, indispensable teachers of our youth. Even what they hope to accomplish is all too small. What in this life is more important than to educate our youth adequately? The ignorance of thousands of young men, drafted for the armies in the late World War, was amazing. This ignorance worried instructors more than anything else.
The trained mind knows how to act, especially in emergencies, but the ignorant mind is like a boat at sea without a rudder or sense of direction.

Even the teachers in our great colleges and public institutions are nearly all too niggardly paid. An ordinary clerk in a business enterprise is far better paid than most of these efficient teachers. And in most instances these are men and women who have devoted a great part of their mature lives in preparation for this service, which they render so unselfishly and with rare tact and enthusiasm.

The influence that these teachers have upon the character of those under their instruction is tremendous. Outside their talks, lectures, and contacts with their pupils, they teach character, and this institution lives long years after all the textbooks have been forgotten. To this day I glory in the outside teaching of those in school and college who influenced me in a manner greater than any textbook could offer.

We keep striving for bigger and bigger things—greater planes, larger engines, taller buildings, and faster cars and trains, but we forget all about better and better teachers to train our youth for the greater responsibilities of life and living. And you can't get better teachers without paying them adequately for the great service that they are so willing to render!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Back Yards"

Just Folks

STRANGE MAN
Strange man, each year he's born anew

And dies within a day or two.
He comes full grown the earth to walk;

At birth can hear and see and talk;
Knows joy and sorrow, weal and
woe;

The comfort pity can bestow.
He has a generous, open mind;
The good in all he's quick to find;

If comes to him a bitter thought,
He keeps it hidden, as he ought.
Along the street he'll stop to say,
"Hello," in such a friendly way,
There seems to be no reason why
So good a man so soon should die.

Who is this chap I praise in rhyme?
Well, he's the one at Christmastime

That every year is born anew,
To vanish in a day or two.
Would he lived longer, oft I sigh—
The man I can be when I try.

QUICK GROWING CLIMBERS SOLVE MANY PROBLEMS

While waiting for the permanent perennial vines to mature to screen a bare wall, tree stump, fence, trellis or arbor, it might be well to consider some of the fast-growing flowering annual vines to fill the waiting period, writes Erna Cass in the New York Herald-Tribune. Of course, she says, these too will take time to develop, but once established they will provide a good coverage. Seed may be planted where the vines are to grow after the ground is warm.

Among the annual vines is the ornamental balloon-vine (Cardiospermum halicacabum), also known as love-in-a-puff. This quick grower has deeply cut leaves and small white four-petaled flowers and seed pods that are inflated like balloons. It is excellent for covering wire fences and trellises, growing to fifteen feet in height.

Not to be overlooked by any means are the beautiful brilliant morning-glories (Ipomoea), which always put on a good show. Scarlett O'Hara, whose blooms of vivid scarlet lend charm and color no matter where it is planted, is a good companion to Heavenly Blue which is everything its name implies. Pearly Gates is a rich satiny white with cream shading in its throat.

Cypress Vines Showy
There are several other excellent vines belonging to the morning-glory family that lend themselves well for screening purposes.
One is the cypress vine, listed as Ipomoea quamoclit, but now known as Quamoclit pinnata. This graceful vine, which likes sun, has interesting leaves and showy scarlet or white star-like flowers.

Another in this family is Star-glory (Quamoclit coccinea), which has scarlet flowers with a yellow throat. Between this member and the cypress vine we have the sheer-lace-like hybrid Cardinal climber (Quamoclit sloteri), which produces vines ten to twenty feet long and blooms all season. It has white-throated crimson flowers and comes perfectly true from seed. It also is heat-resistant. Both it and the cypress vine do well indoors in pots during the winter.

The old-fashioned moonflower (Calonyction auleatum), another member of the morning-glory family, is a rapid climber forming a dense mass and is especially valuable for its fragrant, giant laven-der-pink flowers that bloom only at night and close next morning unless the day is cloudy. The white variety usually stays open longer, remaining until noon the next day.

One of the most interesting of the annual vines, because of its ability to continue blooming until a hard freeze, is Cobaea scandens, often listed as cathedral bells or cup and saucer vine.

Mock Cucumber for Screen
Because of its large deeply lobed leaves and multitudinous clusters of small white or greenish flowers,
the mock or wild cucumber vine (Echinocystis lobata) may be planted where a screen is needed quickly to cover unsightly objects or to drape fences or arbors.

A twining climber that blooms freely in either shade or sun is the hyacinth bean (Dolichos lab-lab). It is really a perennial grown as an annual and has purple to snow-white pea-shaped flowers, followed by purple seed pods. The foliage is heart-shaped and bright green. Plant the seeds where the

Early Broccoli In Home Gardens

Like cabbage, its close relative, broccoli can be started under glass in early February and plants kept thriving in individual pots or bands in a coldframe until weather conditions permit their transplanting to outdoor sites in late March or early April. Broccoli is not injured by light frosts, although growers should protect transplants from unusually cold spells that may come in April or even in early May.

Broccoli is harder than cauliflower under the rigors of hot weather and for this reason can be started early and the plants kept productive until mid-summer by careful harvesting of the edible heads. Then plants from later sowings (from late May until late June) may be grown for late summer and fall crops.

One of the best ways to enjoy the full benefits of this fine vegetable is to sow seed in a sunny window box or hotbed from January 25 to February 15. As soon as leaves form and the seedlings are large enough to move, they should be pricked out and shifted to individual clay pots or plant bands. These may be placed in a sash house or sunny coldframe where the plants can enjoy plenty of room and sunshine until weather and soil conditions permit transplanting to their outdoor growing site. Use of individual pots or bands enables growers to transplant the plants without losing the customary week or more in interrupted growth that follows ordinary removal of plants from beds to the garden.

Plants set in the open the last week in March or first week in April should begin producing edible sprouts in early June. By cutting the sprouts off with a sharp knife and keeping the plants properly nourished, gardeners should obtain second and third crops through late June and all of July.

Like other members of the crucifer group of vegetables, broccoli demands a deeply mellow, well-drained loam with plenty of moisture-holding organic matter available. Shallow and hard loams are not suitable. Besides well rotted manure turned under deeply, commercial fertilizer is recommended, worked into the top soil at rates of 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre a few days before plants are set out. The fertilizer should be near a 6-8-6

vines are to grow and provide strings for them to twine around. This vine does not seem to be susceptible to pests.

Another attractive vine with pealike flowers, but of a brilliant scarlet color, is the scarlet runner bean (Phaseolus coccineus). It is of easy culture and even prefers poor soil, but it wants plenty of sun. The flowers are followed by an abundant crop of edible beans.

For the spot where a vine is needed quickly and yet has poor soil, the many-colored single nasturtiums (trapacolum), make lovely vines when trained upon strings or wire. They are rapid growers and come in a choice of colors. For a continuous display keep the blooms cut as they wilt.

strength. In addition to this, backward plants may be given a side dressing of nitrate of soda any time before heads begin to form.
Many commercial gardeners make side dressing of nitrate of soda a regular practice—once about three or four weeks after final trans-planting and again before heads begin forming.

If diseases have previously proved troublesome with broccoli, seed should be treated by the hot-water method before sowing and seed bed soil should be carefully sterilized.
There are three main diseases likely to attack this vegetable in certain regions, although to date home gardeners report few cases of trouble.
These are black rot, black-leg and alternaria blight. Where broccoli has not been included in the home garden previously, growers may well risk growing plants without seed treatments. However, seed bed and pot and band soils should be sterilized, either by use of scalding water or formaldehyde.

ing subjects.

Fertilizer Supplies For 1947

American farmers, orchardists and gardeners will not be able to obtain all the fertilizer they need during the next growing season but supplies will be near record levels.
This is the opinion of government officials after a recent survey of the fertilizer industry. Consumers should acquaint themselves with the details of the situation in order to plan crops wisely. Following are a few outstanding facts in the fertilizer world:

Available supplies of commercial fertilizer are far behind demands.
This is not because production is lagging but because consumption is soaring well above pre-war levels.
In fact, it is apparent that 1947 fertilizer demands will rise more than double those of the late 1930's, especially for nitrogenous fertilizers.

Nitrogenous fertilizer supplies will be nearly as large as last year although production of synthetic nitrate of soda has fallen off considerably due to short supplies of soda
ash. Approximately 67,000 tons of nitrogen are marked for export to foreign countries, as compared with 73,000 tons exported in 1946. Of course, the United States continues to import more than three times as much nitrogen as we export.

Slightly larger quantities of phosphate and potash are expected to be available for American agriculture during the 1947 planting season than were available last year, according to the report.

American farmers are dependent on outside sources for much of their fertilizer, particularly nitrogen. Why this is necessary in the light of our almost unlimited capacity to produce synthetic nitrogen is difficult to understand. Yet, during the eleven years preceding the last war (1930 to 1940, inclusive) we consumed over 113 tons of fertilizer for every 100 tons produced domestically. Such a continued dependence on foreign fertilizer supplies may well prove disastrous to our national security in case of another and more

Care Is Urged In Nitrogen Use

Most gardeners are well aware of the importance of nitrogen as an essential food element for plants.
There are few soils which have enough of it to supply the needs of the plants throughout the growing season. But, important as it is for established plants, it is distinctly dangerous if used in connection with little seedling plants. These are too tender to endure any kind of concentrated food. For that reason it always is best to use a rather lean mixture for starting seeds and for the first transplanting.

If overfed with nitrogen, seedlings will grow lanky and weak, which in turn makes them highly susceptible to damping off. A mixture rather poor in plant food will prolonged war. It is a matter that warrants immediate public action.

But confining fertilizer tasks to the present, all persons needing fertilizer for the next six months should place their orders at once with their local dealers. Of course, this does not mean that 1947 fertilizer supplies must be bought and paid for at once. However it is well to comprehend that the chief obstructing bot-leneck in the fertilizer trade is our confirmed habit of postponing purchases until a few days before the fertilizer is actually needed. Thus, manufacturers and importers are kept in complete ignorance of maximum requirements until the last minute and then find their labor and production and shipping facilities over-crowded.

To assist manufacturers and dealers, every fertilizer user should observe three main principles.

1. Compute nitrogen needs at once and place order with local dealer for immediate delivery.

2. Estimate garden and farm requirements in complete fertilizers for spring and early summer and place orders for March 1 delivery or earlier, at the dealer's discretion.

3. Place blanket order for late summer and fall needs for tentative mid-summer delivery.

And in addition to these steps it may be wise to talk with neighbors and induce them to join in this early-ordering campaign. For relief will not be gained by less than general consumer cooperation to end our perennial jamming-up of fertilizer channels by last-minute buying.

NEW AGREEMENT STEP FORWARD IN LABOR WARS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—Here's an ABC on the labor-management in the building industry.

President Truman considered it so important that he called a special news conference Saturday to announce it.

It is a step toward labor-management peace. It shows a desire on both sides to get along.

But it is not a 100 per cent guarantee against trouble. It should be considered cautiously with a wait-and-see-how-it-works attitude.

For this reason: There's an outstanding point in the agreement—to be explained here—which could make the spirit of the agreement meaningless.

The agreement was made by: 1. The Associated General Contractors of America, representing management in the construction industry.

2. And the AFL's building and construction trades department, representing 19 big unions with 2,000,000 workers.

The purpose of the agreement is this:

Seeks To Avoid Strikes
To settle disputes peacefully without strikes or work-stoppages by the unions or plant shutdowns by employers.

But here is the point which could make the spirit of the agreement meaningless:

A dispute can't be taken to the arbitration committee for settlement unless the union and employer both agree to take it to arbitration.

It can go to arbitration only by "mutual" consent. If one side refuses to go to arbitration, it can't go there.

Then how could such a dispute be settled? As in the past: By strike or lockout.

A number of big unions—such as the Amalgamated Clothing workers with 350,000 members—have arbitration agreements but not by "mutual" consent.

In the case of the clothing workers if only one side—boss or union—wants to settle it by arbitration, it must go to arbitration.

The Amalgamated Clothing workers have had these arbitration agreements since 1910.

Difference In Agreements
Most great strikes probably have occurred when unions and employers couldn't agree on a new contract when the old one ran out.

And right there is another big difference between the new agreement in the building industry and the agreements in the clothing industry.

In the clothing industry there's no provision for taking to arbitration a dispute over a new contract but only over existing contracts.

In the construction industry agreement a dispute over a new contract can go to arbitration, if both sides agree to take it there.

All in all, the new construction agreement is a step forward. Will it work? That depends upon how unions and employers want it to work.

Reds Ridicule U. S. Policy In China

Moscow, Feb. 3 (AP)—Commenting editorially for the first time on U. S. withdrawal from three-power mediation in China, the government organ, Izvestia, said today that "American policy in China is bankrupt," and declared that Gen. (now U. S. Secretary of State) George C. Marshall was compelled to recognize this before he departed.

Commenting that America's withdrawal denotes "a certain stage in the foreign policy of the U. S.," Izvestia asserted that former U. S. Ambassador Patrick Hurley conducted a policy in support of Chinese reactionaries which caused "dissatisfaction" in broad circles of American public opinion.

Strive To Plug Official Leaks

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—Officials responsible for keeping military secrets are concerned over information leaks in the public writings of retired officers.

In some quarters, government officials in a position to know said today, it has reached a point where there is talk of invoking a military law against certain authors still subject to it.

It was emphasized that the objection is not to expressions of personal views on political, military or international matters. What worries the security officials is incidental allusions from which smart counter-intelligence officers of foreign powers might deduce information channels or methods of communication.

Torenia Is Ideal As Border Annual

Torenia, the wishbone or blue wing flower, is one of the very few annuals which will do well and bloom freely even in a quite heavily shaded border. Despite the fact that it will self-seed in a protected location, it is best to start the small seeds indoors. Early growth is rather slow but that should not discourage the gardener because the plants make up for lost time when early summer arrives.

The plants grow about ten inches high, carrying tube-shaped flowers which combine velvety deep blue with sky blue and a yellow spot in the center. Like most other plants which do well in the shade they should have a uniform supply of soil moisture.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE

Those present every day during January at the New Chester school, Mrs. G. Marion Stambaugh, teacher, were Ray Cooley, Ruth Millhimes, Betty Sager, Joyce Starr, Joyce Ann Trimmer, Donna Lee Yingling, Eugene Thomas, Eva Sager, Robert Hall, Yvonne Trimmer, Dean Starr, Ruthetta Bly, Charles Gearhart, Gene Starr and Grayson Deatrick.

Epidemics of whooping cough and "pink eye" caused poor attendance during the month.

CONGRESS NOW READY TO GO; GOT SLOW START

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—Finally organized after a full month in which only one bill was sent to President Truman, the 80th Congress geared itself today to the No. 1 business of law making.

"Growing pains" resulting from the Congressional reorganization act of last year contributed largely to the slower-than-usual start of the legislative machinery. Among other things, that act completely realigned the committee structure of both chambers.

But with the realignment now complete two major measures may come up for consideration in the Senate and the House during the latter part of this week:

1. Republican leaders are hopeful that the House will get to a vote on legislation limiting the tenure of any president to two terms.

2. Senate pilots are planning a quick showdown on the House-passed bill retaining war-time excise tax rates indefinitely on liquor, furs, cosmetics and other so-called luxuries as well as such things as travel tickets and telephone service.

Limit On Presidency?

Neither branch has considered the presidential limitation measure, but the Republican high command has scheduled it for a House vote Thursday. It proposes that the question of putting a limit on White House occupancy be decided by the states in the form of a constitutional amendment. Thirty-six states would have to ratify it before it could become law.

Passage of the excise tax bill is virtually certain once the Senate gets around to a vote. The House approved the measure overwhelmingly last week.

It also passed the first veterans' legislation of the 80th Congress—a bill continuing for World War II veterans the right to reinstate their government life insurance policies. That right expired last Saturday because the Senate had not acted. It is expected to do so during the week, however, and to add a retroactivity clause.

Pledges Probe Of Huge War Profits

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—Chairman Brewster (R-Me.) today committed the Senate's special war investigating committee to a "complete examination of $31,000,000,000 of war profits."

He told reporters he based his estimate on information that of $400,000,000,000 spent in the war effort, $315,000,000,000 was disbursed on contracts where the profit averaged 10 percent.

"We are going to look into all these figures and the individual contracts," Brewster said. "We are going to get behind scenes."

He expressed hope the committee will proceed without the partisan flareups which developed during the election campaign last year.

RESERVE OFFICERS OF ADAMS COUNTY

There will be a meeting of all reserve officers of this county, 8:00 P. M., Tuesday, February 4, at the Gettysburg Fire Engine house.

The Purpose of the Meeting
Is the Election of Officers

All persons holding a reserved commission in any of the armed forces—Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard, Air Corps—are invited to attend this meeting.

OMAR BRADLEY DOUGHBOY HOPE IN PEACETIME

By HAL BOYLE
Washington, (AP)—The man who gets probably more mail than anyone in history—and perhaps more squawks—is Omar Nelson Bradley. He had the wartime satisfaction of commanding more American troops abroad in the field than any general who came before him. Now he has the dubious pleasure of untangling the affairs of more ex-soldiers than any predecessor as Veterans' Administrator. The same troops who looked to the "doughboy's general" to lead them to victory in the second World War now regard him as their friend in the adjustment to peace. There are approximately 18,000,000 living veterans of American wars, about 43 per cent of the adult male population of the United States. In the fiscal year 1946 Bradley supervised the spending of $4,772,072,218 in their behalf.

The Postman Knocks
The size of his job can be further judged from the fact that in the month of December he and the officials under him throughout the country received 11,300,000 letters, 1,800,000 personal visits from veterans seeking information, and 743,000 phone calls. It is not a task to his choosing. He was trained to command rather than administer. But he was picked because he was the one man available whose lifetime reputation as a square soldier assured him the faith of all veterans. And it was because of this faith in him by his old soldiers that he accepted what is probably the second toughest job in America. I spent a pleasant half hour with him the other day recalling European campaigns. His present post has no thrill like cracking the Siegfried line, but he said it wasn't without satisfactions. "Any reward you get," he said, "is in the feeling you've done some good for veterans and have their loyalty. But it's not like in combat. It's not as tangible."

Pride in Leadership
He said there were still "a lot of headaches" in carrying out Congressional provisions for veterans, particularly in speedily ironing out the insurance problems of 17,000,000 veterans who took out a total of 18,000,000 wartime government policies, but that "we're coming along in pretty good shape."

Bradley said he thought most veterans were "getting along pretty well" and spoke with great pride of the leadership qualities shown by those who returned to college.

"There is still unemployment, however," he remarked. "Full employment and lots of new housing are the veterans' greatest needs."

The general—born on Abraham Lincoln's birthday—will be 54 years old next week. His forehead is climbing a little higher and the gray shows more clearly on his temples.

But he hasn't changed otherwise. He has no political ambitions. His present task of reorganizing veterans' affairs will soon be accomplished, and his friends feel he will probably return to army duty.

Insipid Confidence
Meanwhile he has left an indelible impression at the Veterans Administration, where they would like him to stay forever.

"There was considerable resentment when he first came," said one old chairholder there, "but now the people here think this sun rises and sets in him."

"He is a little bit formal, a little stiff. But he has something innate—I don't believe it is anything that he does deliberately—that inspires confidence and loyalty—yes, even affection."

"He makes his decisions on facts. Sometimes he has to chop off a head, but somehow there is no feeling of anger against him. People know that with him there is no personal feeling involved. He simply is doing his job."

Three Hurt, $20,000 Loss In Auto Crash

York, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—Four persons were injured in a crash of a tractor trailer and passenger automobile on the Camp Ganoga bridge, north of here, at 1:40 a. m. today. Three of the injured were removed to the Harrisburg hospital in an ambulance. The truck driver, Sterling E. Bortner, 29, of York, was removed to the York hospital. Bortner faces arrest on a reckless driving charges, state police report. Treated at the Harrisburg hospital were William Hoy, 52, Harrisburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, Harrisburg; and Vernon Dushayne, Lancaster. The truck and cargo valued at $20,000 were destroyed by a blaze which followed the collision. Firemen from New Cumberland and York Haven responded to calls. North and southbound traffic on the Susquehanna trail was blocked for more than five hours until the wreckage could be removed from the bridge.

IDEA OF WORLD 'FEDERATION' GAINS SUPPORT

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
The first National Congress of those whose slogan is "the brotherhood of man and the federation of the world" as a practical objective will convene February 21 at Asheville, N. C.

The Congress has been called by the United States Council of the Movement for World Government, and is being sponsored by a dozen organizations. They have invited representatives from a score of other national organizations which are on record as favoring the idea, including the American Veterans Committee, the Commission of World Peace of the Methodist Church, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, various bar associations and the like.

The United States Council was organized after an international meeting in Luxembourg last October, and is designed to unify the movement in this country.

World-wide Attention
The idea seems to have attracted world-wide attention since the war, has received strong support in England, and is a long-range objective of some who support such groups as Union Now, which seeks immediate federation of England with the United States, and the proposed United States of Europe. A recent public opinion poll in the United States (by Roper) indicated that more than 60 per cent of Americans support the federationists, believing this country should join a representative world congress empowered to make and enforce laws.

Some of the people who are advocating world federation want it to replace the United Nations now. Others realize that, considering the present state of the world, their lifetimes will at best permit only the prosecution of an educational program looking toward accomplishment at some distant date.

Still others feel that the most practical immediate approach is through confederation—a non-legislative combination of countries to promote peace and mutual welfare. Many of them would like to see the U. S. and the British commonwealth begin it with treaties calling for customs union, military alliance and cultural support, and with this union thrown open for membership by any other countries which would support the same tenets. They believe such a union would soon become sufficiently strong to enforce peace by the mere promise to step in on the side of the underdog whenever the need arose.

Ask Congress OK On St. Lawrence Seaway

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 3 (AP)—The New York state power authority said today the proposed St. Lawrence seaway and power development should be authorized by Congress "so that it will stand on an equal footing with other approved projects awaiting construction under the postwar program."

In its annual report to Governor Thomas E. Dewey and the Legislature, the power authority said the postwar river development program approved by the last Congress included projects "which will ultimately call for appropriations greatly in excess of the cost of completing the St. Lawrence development."

Dewey, an advocate of the seaway and power development, has said many times that New York contributes 20 per cent of the federal government income and gets back approximately five per cent.

MAY SIDETRACK FLOOR FIGHT ON PIPE LINE ISSUE

By MARTIN BRACKBILL
Harrisburg, Feb. 3 (AP)—Growing sentiment was reported in Republican circles today against an open floor fight in the State Senate on the question of asking Congress to delay sale of the Big and Little Inch pipelines for the transportation of natural gas.

Backed by senators from coal-mining counties, a resolution memorializing the nation's lawmakers on the issue was in position for a vote in the upper branch, but one senator said a move is under way in the GOP caucus to sidetrack it for the present.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania legislators returned here for the fourth week of the 1947 session with their other developments in prospect: 1. Continuation by the Assembly's special budget committee of a study of the commonwealth's finances. Requested by Governor Duff to clarify the state's financial picture, the committee was expected to seek data on unexpended balances from 1945 appropriations.

Split In Prospect
2. Appearance in the state House of Representatives of key administration proposals, including a measure to transfer the state Sanitary Water Board from the Health Department to the Department of Forests and Waters, merging it with the Water and Power resources Board and placing the stream cleanup program under one head as asked by Duff.

Efforts to avoid a vote now on the pipelines resolution developed after prospects of a split in the majority ranks was reported. Senators from southeastern counties were under strong pressure from persons favoring use of the war-built lines for natural gas to vote against the resolution, it was learned. "Neither Republican leaders nor the GOP majority has taken a stand on the question," declared Sen. Clarence D. Becker (R-Lebanon), GOP caucus chairman, in advance of a meeting of Republican senators.

—DELAYED HONEYMOON—

Chicago, (AP)—Edward W. Predl, 28, fell downstairs at his home and suffered a broken leg while en route to his church wedding, but he arrived in a wheelchair only two hours late.

The bride, Miss Betty Conway, 21, and 150 relatives and friends waited at the church Saturday without knowledge of Predl's misfortune. After the wedding the bandaged bridegroom returned to Evangelical hospital in an ambulance. The bride went alone to the wedding dinner and reception.

WILL CRITICIZE DULLES' PLANS

Washington, Feb. 3 (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), raised the prospect today of sharp congressional debate over American relations with Russia.

Pepper, whose foreign policy stand sometimes has conflicted with that taken by the administration with Republican support, told a reporter he plans to criticize specifically the proposal of John Foster Dulles for economic unification of Europe.

"Mr. Dulles seems to be a spokesman on the Republican party on foreign policy, and I think he's wrong on his issue," Pepper declared. Dulles, a GOP leader who served as one of the American delegates to the United Nations general assembly, suggested linking Germany's economy with that of France and Belgium.

This proposal came under immediate attack in Moscow. M. Marinin, writing in Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, said the Soviets were uninterested in any scheme that might prove a revival of "German imperialism."

Any discussion by Pepper of American-Russian relations appears likely to touch off fireworks. Senator Tydings (D-Md.) gave no indication of what some other Democrats are thinking about the international situation when he said in a radio address yesterday that the United States and Russia appear to be "maneuvering for far northern bases, looking to a future conflict that would be fought over the North Pole."

LONG TIME NO SEE

Los Angeles, (AP)—Love will find a way, they say, but sometimes it's a long time. Like 49 years.

"We knew we were in love and that it would last a lifetime, but we were too young to marry," says George H. Beck, 67, of his romance with Mrs. Elizabeth Reuss, 66. But they lost track of each other when her mother took her back to Germany. Both later married. He was widowed after 45 years, she after 41. By then he lived here, Mrs. Reuss in New York, where she was a nurse. Mutual friends brought them together again. "We'll be married just as soon as we can," said Beck.

Denmark had the highest export per capita of any country in the world in 1939.

STATE FARMERS HAVE SURPLUS OF POTATOES

Harrisburg, Feb. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania's farmers are urging everyone to eat more potatoes as one method of getting rid of 20,066,000 bushels produced in the state last year.

The State Department of Agriculture reported that farmers and local dealers had 7,570,000 bushels available for market on January 1, about two and three-quarter million bushel more than on the same date last year.

The farmers are saving 830,000 bushels for seed and are planning to decrease acreage for 1947 by at least five per cent.

Caught In "Squeeze"

The farmers are faced with another problem brought about by shifting prices. Farm products, including milk, butter, eggs, chickens and turkeys, brought lower prices in January than in the month before. But the things that farmers buy went up during the same period.

The department's federal-state price survey reported that "higher prices received for wheat, oats and apples failed to overcome these declines."

"As a result," the report said, "the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar dropped five cents to only $1.21 based on the January 15, the total price index fell from 269 to 261 per cent of the basic 1909-14 level."

Potatoes showed no change at $1.40 per bushel and apples advanced 10 cents to $2.60 per bushel.

Engineer Killed In Garland Wreck

Garland, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—The engineer was killed and six other men including a passenger, were injured in the derailment of seven of nine cars of an eastbound Pennsylvania railroad train near here last night.

Lloyd A. Gearhart of Erie, Pa., died of injuries suffered when he was pinned under the wreckage of the Erie-to-Philadelphia flyer.

The injured were S. S. Freeland, 80, of Emporium, Pa., the only passenger hurt; fireman Claire Shields, 26, of North Girard, Pa.; conductor James B. Behan, brakeman Herman Hotchkiss, W. J. Smith, and Edward Walker, crewmembers, all of Erie.

None of the cars overturned. Passengers were transported by bus to Emporium, Pa., where they boarded another train.

Hawley, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Bridget Corcoran, a native of Ireland who came to the United States 79 years ago, is 102 years old. Mrs. Corcoran, one of 12 children and said to be the oldest resident in Wayne county, celebrated her birthday yesterday.

War Widow Killed. Navy Man Is Held

Coraopolis, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP)—An attractive war widow died of a stab wound in the heart and police held under guard at Sewickley Valley hospital today a young ex-sailor found slumped on the floor beside her.

The dead woman was Mrs. Ruth E. Saltzer, 32, mother of two children. The former navy man, Joseph Corbin, 22, was in serious condition. His chest had been slashed with a butcher knife.

Police Chief George F. Colvin said Corbin told him he and Mrs. Saltzer quarreled yesterday after returning to her modest home here from a round of clubs. The chief quoted Corbin as saying he remembered struggling for the knife and falling down.

Mrs. Saltzer's two children, Thurell Ray, 10, and Nettie, 5, were staying at their grandmother's home, at the time of the slaying. Mrs. Saltzer's husband was killed in the European theater two years ago.

EXPLAINS RISE IN RELIEF BILL

Harrisburg, Feb. 3 (AP)—Frank A. Robbins, Jr., new head of the Department of Public Assistance, said increased costs for relief were due "to a series of interrelated factors."

He listed four reasons for "a sharp postwar rise in public dependency," namely:

1. Reconversion, labor disturbances and material shortages.
2. The displacement of marginal workers by the absorption of approximately 1,100,000 Pennsylvania veterans into the labor force with an expansion of only 400,000 jobs.
3. Inability of relatives to continue support to their needy kin because of job losses, decreased earnings, and increased living costs.
4. Rapid exhaustion of savings and resources by reason of the increase in living costs.

As a result of the increased cost of relief it was necessary for the legislature to appropriate an additional $23,400,000 to finance payments until May 31, bringing the total cost of relief for the biennium to $11,400,000.

83 Below In Alaska

The storm borne along by a strong northwest wind, was expected to spread to the Great Lakes area by this afternoon, bringing temperatures down to 5 above zero in Chicago tonight and perhaps to 5 below by Wednesday morning.

The cold wave appeared to be at least three days duration, the forecasters said. An all-time record low of 83 below zero was reported at Snag field, Yukon territory, yesterday noon, the weather bureau said.

Some Relief In Sight

(By The Associated Press)

Weather forecasters promised Pennsylvania a slight respite today from the state's latest cold wave but also warned of new, sharp blasts within the next few days.

Cloudy and warmer weather was predicted for today with sinking temperatures and more snow due tomorrow. The forecasts bore out the traditional prediction made by the groundhogs, which saw his shadow yesterday and prepared for six more weeks of winter.

Western Pennsylvania was still battling icy highways and deep snow drifts in mountainous areas after Saturday's storm which piled up one to seven inches of snow.

In Eastern Pennsylvania, where light snow flurries fell late last night, the temperature was expected to rise to 35 today. Yesterday's low was 29 but no icy highway conditions were reported.

Two persons were killed on ice-covered Pittsburgh streets and 15 were injured in falls, S. C. Westfall, 38, was killed by a motorist who failed to stop as he knelt to put chains on his car and Miss Dorothy Rigus, 22, died of injuries suffered when the car in which she was riding collided with a truck.

ADM. MITSCHER, TASK FORCE 58 BOSS, DEAD AT 60

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 3 (AP)—Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, died at the Norfolk Naval Station hospital early today of coronary thrombosis.

The war-time boss of famed Task Force 58, which played havoc with the Japanese, died in his sleep at 1:20 a. m. He was admitted to the hospital after suffering a heart attack on his sixtieth birthday last Sunday.

Rear Admiral W. L. Ainsworth, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, announcing Mitscher's death shortly after 8 a. m., quoted a bulletin issued by the hospital as saying that "the special nurse on duty reported that the Admiral had been sleeping quietly but shortly after 1 a. m. he ceased breathing."

Safe-Spoken, Hard-Hitting

"The time of death was officially reported at 1:20 a. m. and the cause of death was thrombosis, coronary artery."

Mitscher entered the hospital last week.

Mitscher, soft-spoken but a hard-hitting, determined fighting man, had a personal hand in many spectacular and important actions against the enemy in the Pacific and his admirers claimed that he put tempo of the war against Japan into high gear with his Task Force 58's first carrier blows at Truk and the Marianas in February of 1944.

In those attacks the navy tested its newly-built carrier power for the first time against strong Japanese strongholds and exploded the myth of their invincibility.

Mitscher's swift marauding task force had the entire Pacific ocean to the gates of Japan as its stamping ground and his carrier planes smashed vital enemy aircraft plants and chased the Japanese Air Force to cover while pounding at Tokyo and vicinity early in 1945.

He was the skipper of the aircraft carrier Hornet, the "Shangri-La" from which Lt. Col. (later Lt. Gen.) James Doolittle launched his Mitchell bombers for the raid on Tokyo and four other Japanese cities April 18, 1942.

The fleet admiral was born in Hillsboro, Wis., on January 26, 1887. He attended grade and high schools in Washington, D. C., and was appointed to the Naval Academy from Oklahoma in 1906. After graduation in 1910 he served two years at sea, as was then required by law, and was commissioned an ensign to rank from March 7, 1912.

In October 1915, Admiral Mitscher reported to the Pensacola Naval Air Station for flight training and received his wings on June 2, 1916. He had served in aviation since that time.

In the spring of 1917 he reported to the USS Huntington for duty in connection with catapult experiments. In May 1919, he was pilot of the NC-1 on the first Navy trans-Atlantic flight. For that duty he was awarded the Navy Cross.

EARTH TO THE MOON By Jules Verne

Chapter 3

Barbican, however, lost not one moment amid all the enthusiasm of which he had become the object. His first care was to reassemble his colleagues in the board-room of the Gun Club. There, after some discussion, it was agreed to consult the astronomers regarding the astronomical part of the enterprise. Their reply once ascertained, they could then discuss the mechanical means, and nothing should be wanting to ensure the success of this great experiment.

A note couched in precise terms, containing special interrogatories, was then drawn up and addressed to the Observatory of Cambridge in Massachusetts. This celebrated institution fully justified on all points the confidence reposed in it by the Gun Club. After two days, the reply so impatiently awaited was placed in the hands of President Barbican. It was couched in the following terms:

"On the receipt of your favor of the 6th instant, addressed to the Observatory of Cambridge in the name of the members of the Baltimore Gun Club, our staff was immediately called together, and it was judged expedient to reply as follows:

"The questions which have been proposed to it are these—

"1. Is it possible to transmit a projectile up to the moon?

"2. What is the exact distance which separates the earth from its satellite?

"3. What will be the period of transit of the projectile when endowed with sufficient initial velocity? and, consequently, at what moment ought it to be discharged in order that it may touch the moon at a particular point?

"4. At what precise moment will the moon present herself in the most favorable position to be reached by the projectile?

"5. What point in the heavens ought the cannon to be aimed at which is intended to discharge the projectile?"

"There are our answers to the questions proposed to the Observatory of Cambridge by the members of the Gun Club:

"1st. The cannon ought to be planted in a country situated between 0° and 28° of N. or S. lat.

"2d. It ought to be pointed directly toward the zenith of the place.

"3d. The projectile ought to be propelled with an initial velocity of 12,069 yards per second.

"4th. It ought to be discharged at 10h. 46m. 40sec. of the 1st of December of the ensuing year.

"5th. It will meet the moon four days after its discharge, precisely at midnight on the 4th of December, at the moment of its transit across the zenith.

"The members of the Gun Club ought, therefore, without delay, to commence the works necessary for such an experiment, and to be prepared to set to work at the moment determined upon; for, if they should suffer this 4th of December to go by, they will not find the moon again under the same conditions of perigee and of zenith until eight years and eleven days afterward.

"The staff of Cambridge Observatory place themselves entirely at their disposal in respect of all questions of theoretical astronomy; and herewith add their congratulations to those of all the rest of America."

The immediate result of Barbican's proposition was to place upon the orders of the day all the astronomical facts relative to the Queen of Night. Everybody set to work to study assiduously. One would have thought that the moon had just appeared for the first time, and that no one had ever before caught a glimpse of her in the heavens.

President Barbican had, without loss of time, nominated a working committee of the Gun Club. The duty of this committee was to resolve the three grand questions of the cannon, the projectile, and the powder. It was composed of four members of great technical knowledge, Barbican (with a casting vote in case of equality), General Morgan, Major Elphinstone, and J. T. Maston, to whom were confided the functions of secretary. On the 8th of October the committee met at the house of President Barbican, 3 Republican Street. The meeting was opened by the president himself.

"Gentlemen," said he, "we have to resolve one of the most important problems in the whole of the noble science of gunnery. It might appear, perhaps, the most logical course to devote our first meeting to the discussion of the engine to be employed. Nevertheless, after mature consideration, it has appeared to me that the question of the projectile must take precedence of that of the cannon, and that the dimensions of the latter must necessarily depend upon those of the former."

"Suffer me to say a word," here broke in J. T. Maston. Permission having been granted, "Gentlemen," said he, with an inspired accent, "our president is right in placing the question of the projectile above all others. The ball we are about to discharge at the moon is our ambassador to her, and I wish to consider it from a moral point of view. The cannonball, gentlemen, to my mind, is the most magnificent manifestation of human power. If Providence has created the stars and the planets, man has called the cannon-ball into existence. Let Providence claim the swiftness of electricity and of light, of the stars, the comets, and the planets, of wind and sound—we claim to have invented the swiftness of the cannon-ball, a hundred times superior to that of the swiftest horses or railway train. How glorious will be the moment when, infinitely exceeding all hitherto attained velocities, we shall launch our new projectile with the rapidity of seven miles a second! Shall it not, gentlemen—shall it not be received up there with the honors due to a terrestrial ambassador?"

Overcome with emotion the orator sat down and applied himself to a huge plate of sandwiches before him.

"And now," said Barbican, "let us quit the domain of poetry and come direct to the question."

"By all means," replied the members, each with his mouth full of sandwich.

state police recapitulation disclosed. Three were caused by drivers failing to drive on their own side of the highway, three by drivers who failed to yield the right of way, one by a car following another too closely, and one by a careless operator.

The ten men at the local sub-station spent 203 hours on criminal investigations, 1,028 hours on traffic work, 815 hours on special assignments and 1,216 hours on station duty. In carrying out their work the officers drove 15,100 miles in state police cars and 230 miles in their own cars. They made 398 patrols, conducted 16 criminal investigations and made 18 arrests on criminal charges. They made 23 investigations for other state department and seven miscellaneous investigations. During the month they recovered one stolen trailer valued at $75.

Summing up their observations during January the policemen found that far too many drivers are not making any inspections of their vehicles except at the regular inspection periods

TEARFUL TIME
El Paso, Tex., (P)—Police answering a call on White Oaks street found the neighborhood literally crying for help.

Investigation showed that boys playing on a vacant lot had stumbled across more than a dozen bear gas canisters, presumably old army equipment.

The boys broke several, and the wind did the rest.

Robert Hook is credited with inventing the compound microscope in 1665.

LADY'S ARM WAS BENT UP DOUBLE LIKE A JACK-KNIFE

One lady recently stated that her arm used to become doubled up like a jack-knife. She couldn't move her arm up or down because her muscles were stiff with rheumatic pains and the joints of her elbow and shoulder were swollen. She said she was ashamed to leave her house because people would stare at her. Finally she got R-HU-AID and says she now can raise her arm above her head and the swelling left her elbow and shoulder. The awful pain and stiffness is gone. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman" since taking her New Compound.

R-HU-AID contains Three Great Medicinal Ingredients which go right to the very source of rheumatic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get R-HU-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Gettysburg.

GUILD STRIKE WILL CONTINUE

Philadelphia, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Evening Bulletin of Philadelphia, owners of the suspended Philadelphia Record and Camden (N. J.) Courier-Post, reports that so far "no serious offers have been made for the properties but we would welcome some."

The Bulletin's general manager, Richard Slocum, made the statement in denying a report last night by Arthur D. Pierce, president of the Philadelphia-Camden local of the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) that "one buyer already is negotiating for the Record and several buyers for the Courier and Post."

Slocum said the Bulletin would stick to its purchase statement, issued Friday night, that it was hoped publication of the three papers would be resumed soon under independent ownership.

Meantime, the guild voted yesterday to continue its strike against the suspended papers, adding that any new owner would have to deal with the guild. The strike began Nov. 7 in a dispute over wages and working conditions.

The first edition of today's Bulletin contained two pages headlined: "Favorite Record features for Record readers."

One page was made up of syndicated Record features and the other was a full page of comics. The pages were set in Record typography.

Plead Innocent To Hicks Slaying

Philadelphia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Two 15-year old boys today pleaded innocent to the slaying of Philadelphia Patrolman Harry Hicks, father of six children.

The defendants, Aaron M. Gore, Jr., Long Branch, N. J., and Keith Donaldson, Elberon, N. J., were arraigned on a murder charge before Judge John A. Mahanney in Quarter Sessions court. The court set February 18 for trial.

Both youths were permitted to confer briefly with their mothers in the courtroom before being returned to the House of Detention.

They are charged with shooting the patrolman to death last December 23 within half a block of the 15th Police District station house.

Hundreds Idled By Gas Conservation

Pittsburgh, Feb. 3 (AP)—Hundreds were idled today as the Peoples Natural Gas company put into effect a 50 per cent cut in gas supplies to 152 western Pennsylvania industrial plants. The cut was made to save more gas for heating homes during the cold weather.

Steel, glass, brick, and allied production was curtailed.

The U. S. Steel corporation reported three roll mills and three open hearths closed at the American Steel and Wire company plant in Donora. Some men were laid off in the open hearth and rolling mills in Johnstown and Vandergrift plants of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation.

A U. S. Steel corporation spokesman reported that in other plants efforts were being made to shift from use of gas to tar and other fuels.

News Briefs

Washington, Feb. 3 (P)—Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) took up the battle today for a 20 per cent across-the-board tax slashing bill, and objected vigorously to proposals to drop millions of small income persons from the tax rolls. These millions are becoming "tax conscious," and constitute the greatest bulwark against "federal squandering," Mason declared. Their votes, he continued, were cast last November "against deficit spending and for tax reductions."

Hamburg, Feb. 3 (P)—A British military court today convicted as war criminals 15 Nazi attendants at the Ravensbruck concentration camp for women, where thousands of inmates—mostly Polish—were reported to have died as a result of brutal and inhuman treatment.

The 16th defendant, Dr. Adolf Winkelman, whom witnesses had described as "a devil doctor" who selected prisoners for extermination, died in his cell Saturday following a heart attack. No verdict was announced in his case.
